

Crisis in France Is Escalated

By DAVID MASON
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Another French worker died today from injuries received in battle with the police, raising the death toll in the French crisis this week to three.

A new escalation of the crisis appeared in prospect as students rioted in Paris for the second night running, the Communists called a one-hour general strike today, and the Paris students scheduled another demonstration tonight.

Henri Blanchet, a 49-year-old worker at the Peugeot auto plant at Sochaux, in Alsace, died shortly after midnight of a fractured skull received when he fled from a police charge at the strikebound plant Monday.

Blanchet was the second worker to fall since the general strike began in mid-May in response to a student revolt at the University of Paris. Another Peugeot striker died of a bullet during the battle at Sochaux Monday, and a riot policeman was reported in "desperate condition" after being clubbed in the abdomen with an iron bar.

The spark that touched off the new student rioting was the drowning Monday of a high school student. Witnesses said the youth, along with other students, plunged into the Seine to escape a police check.

and side arms crouched throughout the day and night behind cars which lined the long, curving driveway in front of the prison. They were aided in securing the prison's two main gates by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and members of the Atlanta Police Department.

Across the street at a gas station and along a shaded sidewalk, relatives of some of the prison's 2,000 inmates and of some of those being held hostage mingled with curiosity seekers who stared at the prison and waited.

Blackwell's office is on the first floor of the prison's administration section, directly below an office where the hostages are. The administration section projects out from the main building.

A discussion of the list by radiotelephone began immediately. It involved the inmates and Blackwell, Wolfe and William B. Williams, a reporter for the Atlanta Journal.

Williams had been summoned by Blackwell soon after the inmates failed in what the warden described as an attempted escape, sealed themselves and their hostages off in a second-floor office of the prison administration section and demanded to talk to the reporter.

Williams covers the federal court and other U.S. government agencies in Atlanta. He has written several articles about the prison, some dealing with inmate complaints.

All four inmates involved are serving lengthy sentences. They are identified as Frederick Freeman Leister Jr., serving 15 years for bank robbery with assault; Ralph M. Lepscopco, serving 20 years for bank robbery; Robert W. Gorman, serving 30 years for bank robbery and robbery of a trust company; and Ivan Daniel Neighbors, serving 120 years for kidnapping and murder on a government reservation.

The four initially took 25 hostages, but released two women who became ill. Most of the hostages were identified as clerical employees or case workers.

Blackwell said he was told the inmates had two pistols and 50 rounds of ammunition. Other officials said no determination has been made about how the inmates obtained the arms.

Nixon Gains Kennedy Workers Are Moving, Many Don't Know Where They'll Go

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon has gained a sizeable block of Illinois delegates in Illinois and South Carolina primaries that nominated a host of incumbent congressmen for re-election.

Texas party conventions, meanwhile Tuesday, gave Democratic Gov. John Connally and Republican Sen. John G. Tower favorite son control over the state's national convention delegates.

Connally has not committed himself but is believed to favor Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Most of the GOP delegates were reported leaning toward Nixon.

Nixon won at least 27 of the 48 Illinois delegate seats at stake Tuesday. On the Democratic side, Humphrey won at least 3 of the 48, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy at least one with 28 other winners listed as uncommitted.

A major exception to the general renomination of incumbent congressmen was Rep. Barratt O'Hara, D-Ill., at 86 the oldest man in the House—who lost to former state Rep. Abner Mikva of Chicago.

But Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois coasted to renomination for a fourth term. Five incumbent representatives including O'Hara had opposition and the other four were nominated for re-election. Another 19 incumbents were unopposed.

In the South Carolina Democratic primary, incumbent Sen. Ernest F. Hollings defeated challenger John Bolt Culbertson of Greenville for renomination and veteran Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, seeking re-election defeated George A. Payton, a Negro lawyer in Charleston.

In other political developments: —McCarthy met with newsmen to outline the direction his campaign will take in an effort to win delegate votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a nationwide television address, promised new leadership and blamed "the failure and the blindness of the old politics" for continuing crises in America.

—Third party presidential candidate George Wallace got a roaring reception in Memphis, Tenn., as he fired away at a host of targets including Republicans, Democrats and the Supreme Court.

—Humphrey relaxed at his Waverly, Minn., home and there were reports—which aides would not confirm—that he does not plan to rescue campaigning until after the New York primary June 18.

—Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., announced he will not seek Illinois' GOP favorite son designation. He said most Illinois Republican delegates have decided who they favor for president and should not be tied to him as a favorite son at the national convention.

In the Illinois race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, Cook County (Chicago) Commission President Richard B. Ogilvie defeated Peoria industrialist John Henry Altorfer. Two other candidates ran far behind.

Connally's favorite son endorsement at the Texas Democratic convention—giving him unit-rule control of 104 delegates—prompted a faction including McCarthy backers to walk out.

Said Mrs. Billie Carr of Houston: "We want the whole country to know that John Connally is not the favorite son of everybody in Texas."

Tower was endorsed at the Republican convention with approval of a resolution putting Texas' 56-vote delegation behind the senator "until released after consultation with the delegation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many workers in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's Capitol Hill offices looked forward to moving day, sure it would be to the White House. Moving has begun, but few know where they will go.

Secretaries had tears in their eyes Tuesday as they helped pack much of a man's life and almost a decade of a nation's history into crates, boxes and envelopes.

Fifteen staffers were still at work about 7 p.m. when Robert Kennedy's eldest son, Joseph, 15, stopped by unexpectedly.

Accompanied by former astronaut John Glenn, a family friend, the lad shook hands and chatted briefly with several staff members, saying he just stopped by to say hello.

Activity in the offices, three rooms on three floors of the New Senate Office building was busy but subdued during the day.

And the scene at Kennedy for President headquarters downtown was the same.

Telephones rang incessantly in both places, possibly as much

3 Acquitted on Charge of Conspiring

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Three white men from Strong (Union County) were acquitted by a federal District Court jury here Tuesday of conspiring to injure and intimidate two Negroes.

The three are John C. Massey, 48, his son, Wayne, 20, and Melvin Cross, 19.

A similar charge against James E. Cogburn, 19, also of Strong, was dismissed earlier in the day by U.S. Dist. Judge Oren Harris on a defense motion claiming lack of evidence.

The indictment said the four conspired to assault with pistols and threatened Asa Miner Christian, 46, and his son, John, 18, both of Strong.

While British police were trying to ascertain whether Ray had any contacts in London, detectives in Toronto were searching for a short blond man who reportedly came looking for Ray in a rooming house three or four days after the suspect flew to London.

The landlady, Mrs. Fela Szpakowski, told police about the caller, the second Ray reportedly had during his month-long stay in Toronto after the assassination of King. The first was an unidentified fat man who was reported to have called on Ray at another rooming house.

Mrs. Szpakowski said the blond caller presented a police identification card, but both the Mounted Police and the Toronto police said he was not a policeman.

The Atlanta, Ga., Constitution, in a copyright article, said that an apartment manager in the Southern city's hippie district reported a man using the name Eric Starvo Galt stayed in his building for more than a week prior to the slaying of King. The name is one of the aliases under which Ray was sought by the FBI.

The manager said the man "looked more like a preacher than a convict."

A government spokesman said South Vietnamese infantrymen killed 93 infiltrating North Vietnamese soldiers near G. Linh. He said 11 government soldiers were killed and 30 wounded.

U.S. Marines reported killing at least 28 of an estimated 400 North Vietnamese troops who attacked a fire support base seven miles southeast of Km. 10 in South Vietnam's northwestern corner, and near G. Linh, in the northeastern corner. The Marines had just arrived at the base and were digging in when the attack began. They called in artillery, fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships, and the attackers pulled out after 90 minutes.

The base is one of several set up to guard Highway 9, the only overland supply line into the Khe Sanh combat base, and to prevent renewal of the siege of the main base.

U.S. B-52 bombers staged seven raids late Tuesday and today around Kontum and Dak To, in the central highlands 275 miles northeast of Saigon.

MRS. JAKIE DEWELE HONEA

The First Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Linda Carol Huckabee and Jakie Dewele Honea on Friday evening, May 31. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Huckabee, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvel Dewele Honea of Prescott.
The Rev. Everett Vinson performed the double-ring ceremony at an altar flanked by baskets of Majestic daisies with a background of greenery and spiral candelabra holding votive lights. Miss Janice Cumble, cousin of the bride, and Jerry Honea of Prescott, nephew of the groom, lighted the candles.
Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, organist, played selections of wedding music before the ceremony and the wedding marches. She also accompanied vocal soloist, Miss Donna Connelly, who sang "All For You" prior to the entrance of the bride and "A Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt after the exchange of vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peau de sole, ankle-length gown fashioned with a lace bodice and long sleeves ending in lily points over the hands. The dress had an Empire waist and a scalloped neckline, and the mantle chapel train fell from the shoulders. Pearlized leaves held the tulle veil in place, and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and fleur d'amour.
The bride's honor attendants were her sister-in-law, Mrs. James William Caudle, and her sister, Miss Mary Lou Huckabee. They wore mint green peau de sole with green satin and lace headpieces and carried votive candles and ivy. Dressed in similar fashion were the bridesmaids, Miss Vicki Bruce, Miss Linda Sue Parsons, Miss Patsy Pankey of Des Arc, and Miss Barbara Glover of Arkadelphia.
Dale Honea of Prescott served his brother as best man. Groomsmen, who also served as ushers, were Charles Lout of Smackover, Jack Hawkins of Little Rock, Jim Caudle, brother of the bride, Buddy Jordan, and Jim Stuckey.
Miss Terri Law of Smackover, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Master Dennis Cumble, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.
For the wedding the bride's mother, Mrs. Huckabee, chose to wear mauve lace with matching accessories, while Mrs. Honea, mother of the groom, was attired in blue with blending accessories. Each had an orchid corsage.
Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Heritage House. The bride's table was centered with her wedding bouquet and a 5-branched antique candelabrum. The 3-tiered wedding

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Champions," NBC's British import to replace its "laugh-in" for the summer, had the shape of an old model in its American premiere Monday night.

The program is a cross between superman stuff and "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." style of show.

In "The Champions," three attractive young persons, two men and a girl, are dedicated to Fighting Evil.

They work for some international crime-fighting organization. The gimmick is that all three are possessed of strange powers that permit them to see details at great distances, hear through closed doors, immobilize enemies by staring at them and even transmit signals among themselves by mental telepathy.

NBC chose not to tell us how they got these supernatural powers.

At any rate, the story was routine with evil dopepushers, sinister masterminds and the usual fights.

And fights currently are not popular with the television networks. Neither is any kind of action in that area.

All television, particularly the major networks, is worried about talk relating violence to broadcasting and motion pictures. TV executives expect that their entertainment programs will be scrutinized for fist fights, gun play and the like.

Met Hurler Reels Off 6th Victory

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Given an option three months ago, the New York Mets might have left Dick Selma in Florida without a backward glance. Given a choice today, they'd probably settle for nothing less than two of him.

Selma, a distinct flop during spring training, reeled off his sixth regular season victory without a loss Tuesday night, hurling a five-hitter as the Mets tripped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

Selma appeared ticketed for the Mets' Jacksonville farm club in April after appearing in five exhibition games... and compiling an 0-5 record. But New York had exercised all its options on the 24-year-old right-hander, and Manager Gil Hodges wanted to take one more look before giving up on him.

Now Selma rates No. 1 among National League pitchers with five or more decisions and merits a place of esteem on the Mets' talented young pitching staff alongside Jerry Koosman, Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh slugged San Francisco 7-4, with a 16-hit barrage; first place St. Louis trimmed Atlanta 6-0 behind Bob Gibson; Houston upended Philadelphia 5-1; and Cincinnati outscored the Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Detroit's American League leaders swept a two-night doubleheader from Minnesota 3-1 and 3-2; and Chicago White Sox bombed the New York Yankees 9-5; Baltimore whipped Washington 8-4 and Oakland shaded Cleveland 2-0 in a game called after 5½ innings because of rain. Rain washed out the scheduled doubleheader between California and Boston.

Selma lowered his earned run average to 1.77 Tuesday night, struck out four Dodgers and never was in serious trouble.

Two errors by third baseman Ken Boyer helped the Mets push over a pair of unearned runs against loser Claude Oster, 5-8, who had pitched shutouts in his previous two starts.

Roberto Clemente's eighth homer touched off a four-run sixth inning spree that carried the Pirates past the Giants. After Clemente homered off southpaw Ray Sadecki, tying the game 3-3, Bill Mazeroski drilled a two-run single and Maury Wills singled another run home.

Reliever Ron Kline blanked the Giants from the fifth inning until the ninth, when he got lost out help from Roy Face.

The Giants' Willie McCovey took over the NL home run lead by blasting his 12th of the season, a two-run shot off Steve Blass in the fourth inning.

Gibson, 6-5, beat Atlanta for the first time since 1966 with a five-hitter as the Cardinals extended their two-year hex over the Braves to 10 successive victories.

The Cardinals, who have won 13 of their last 15 games, assured Gibson of his second straight shutout by reeling off four double plays.

Tim McCarver drove in two runs, Julian Javier and Mike Shannon delivered one each and two more scored on a pair of errors by rookie outfielder Mike Lum.

The Astros struck for five runs in the second inning and pinned Philadelphia with its fifth consecutive setback behind right-hander Larry Dierker, who scattered seven hits and struck out 11.

Rusty Staub capped the second inning flurry with a two-run double, Rich Allen, making his first start since May 20, tagged Dierker for a first inning homer. The Phils' slugger was back in the lineup after apparently patching up his differences with Manager Gene Mauch.

Tony Perez knocked in four runs with a homer, single and ground out, leading the Reds past the Cubs in an afternoon game. Perez, who leads the league with 39 RBI, gave Cincinnati its margin of victory with a two-run blast in the sixth inning. Lee May also homered for the Reds.

Grand Slam Lifts Sox Over Yanks

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Russ Snyder's big hit in his role as most valuable off the bench has the Chicago White Sox celebrating their rise out of the American League cellar.

But Cesar Tovar's departure from his part as most valuable anywhere has the Minnesota Twins feeling mighty low.

Snyder, who had been flubbing his lines as ace substitute since the White Sox got him from Baltimore last winter, hit the first grand slam home run of his career that sent the Sox to a 9-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night. The triumph lifted Chicago from 10th to eighth place.

In contrast Tovar departed from the script he wrote last year as the Twins' most valuable player and made two errors that let in two runs, the last giving the Detroit Tigers a sweep of their doubleheader with Minnesota. The 3-1 and 3-2 losses left the fourth place Twins floundering nine games behind the Tigers.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore belted Washington 8-4, Oakland tripped Cleveland 2-0 in a rain-shortened affair and rain forced postponement of California's doubleheader at Boston.

In the National League, St. Louis blanked Atlanta 6-0, Houston defeated Philadelphia 5-1, the New York Mets stopped Los Angeles 3-0 and Pittsburgh outthrew San Francisco 7-4 at night. Cincinnati outslugged the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in the afternoon.

Snyder, who had come off the bench numerous times at Baltimore as a heavy-hitting replacement for a slumping or injured regular was hitting only .115 with no homers and no runs batted in for the Sox.

But the 33-year-old veteran of nine major league seasons capped a five-run explosion in the third inning with his applause-winning blast and closed the scoring with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

Only a three-run homer by Tom Tresh and a two-run clout by Mickey Mantle off winner Joe Horlen, 5-6, kept the Yankees in contention. Charlie Smith of the Yanks also had a pinch double, his fifth straight pinch hit, one short of the league record.

For Minnesota and Tovar, their play was a flop. The Twins started the evening with hopes of closing the seven-game gap that separated them from the first place Tigers.

Instead, their losing streak reached four.

Rookie pitcher Pat Dobson, 2-for-5, singled in a run and stopped the Twins on five hits and 10 strikeouts in the opener before giving way to Daryl Patterson with two outs in the eighth inning.

Dobson's catcher, Jim Price drove in two unearned runs — Rich Rollins made the error with a single and later doubled and scored on Dobson's hit to beat Dean Chance, 4-3.

In the nightcap, Tovar, a jack-of-all trades who played second base and shortstop in the opener and second in the nightcap, fumbled away a run in the third inning. But in a brighter moment, he doubled in a run in the fourth for a 2-1 lead.

After Norm Cash's single tied the score for Detroit in the eighth, the Tigers won their seventh game in eight tries in the ninth when Tom Matchick and Dick McAuliffe singled and Mickey Stanley hit a grounder to short with one out. The force was made at second, but Tovar's relay to first was wild and the winning run scored.

Don Buford homered the first pitch for Baltimore, Boog Powell and Gene Brabender each doubled in two runs in the second inning and Brooks Robinson hit a two-run shot in the fifth as the Orioles beat Washington for the ninth straight time.

Chuck Dobson stopped Cleveland on five hits before rain gave Oakland an abbreviated victory with the Indians threatening with two on and one out in the sixth inning. Dave Duncan's sacrifice fly and John Donaldson's homer supplied Oakland's runs.

The umpires waited one hour and 29 minutes in the sixth before calling the game.

Casper Is a Solid Favorite

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Casper, quiet and cool as ever but the hottest commodity on the pro tour, was a solid favorite today to capture his third United States Open Golf Championship.

Casper's near fantastic success this year—he's won four tournaments and almost $125,000—has thrust him ahead of the usual favorites, the troubled twosome of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

"Billy's got to be the man to beat," said young Lee Trevino, also ranked by his fellow pros as a prime contender for golf's most prestigious title.

"Casper's playing incredible golf and the course is made for him."

Play starts Thursday on the demanding 6,062-yard, par 70 Oak Hill Country Club layout. The starting field of 150 will be trimmed to the low 60 and ties after Friday's play for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The last two rounds will be televised nationally by ABC.

"I'm playing the best golf of my life," said the 36-year-old Casper, second only to Palmer on the all-time list of money winners and this year's leader.

"I have never played better. Largely, I think, it's my attitude. Whatever it is, it's all there. All aspects of my game are the best they have ever been."

The course is not overly long, which favors Casper. But the fairways are very narrow, favoring his rifle-like accuracy, and the course is studded with some 34,000 trees, mostly oak and pine, and laced by winding

Coach Davis Promoted by Frank Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas football Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday that Jack Davis will assume the position of recruiting overseer next fall.

Davis, head freshman football coach for the Razorbacks for the past eight seasons, succeeds Steed White, who left the staff in March to take a business position.

Broyles said Harold Horton will take over Davis' freshman duties.

Davis had a 31-9-1 record while coaching the Shoats.

brooks, picturesque but hazardous. Most of the pros figure the demand for accuracy and the penalties of the hazards out the chances of the gambling Nicklaus and Palmer.

Nicklaus is in a slump. He hasn't won this year. Palmer is plagued by a balky, aching hip. His last major title was the 1964 Masters. Gary Player says he's playing well and putting poorly. He hasn't scored a tour victory since the 1965 Open.

But they're always threats. And Nicklaus said his game has been improved with a new driver.

Other major threats include Roberto de Vicenzo, the British Open champion who signed an incorrect card at the Masters; strong, young Tom Weiskopf; Masters champion Bob Goalby; and PGA champion Don Janu-ary.

THE LOOK FOR SUMMER is a pretty one. Organdy bands of lace spill from a fitted bodice with a ruffled low scoop neckline (left). The midl, a new look for evening, is featured in this design for David Byrne by Eloise Curtis. Ole Borden bares the rib cage for summer in his collection for Rembrandt in the two-part costume (center) of canary yellow four-ply crepe. The bodice is cut on bathing suit lines with a halter top, the skirt gently gathered. Over it he throws a gently tailored jacket. The tailored look with touches of softness (right) is from the Mignon collection by Dorothy Farbo. In beige and white diagonally woven cotton, the ruffled silk organza blouse is tucked into an A-line skirt under a jacket with a hint of fit.

THE DOCTOR SAYS WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Gall Bladder Removal Recommended Procedure

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

There are two reasons why a gall bladder that contains stones should be removed—to prevent the agonizing attacks of gall bladder colic that occur when a stone becomes lodged in the bile duct and to avoid chronic gall bladder infection. Persons who have gallstones often inquire what diet is best for them. If they are overweight, they should go on a reducing diet. But, regardless of weight, they should avoid fats because fats stimulate the gall bladder to contract and may force a stone into the bile duct. This type of diet should not, however, be used as a substitute for removal of the gall bladder.

After such an operation a return to a liberal diet is usually possible. But if part of the trouble was a disease of the stomach or intestines, as is often the case, further dietary restriction may be necessary.

One reader asks what happens to the fats in one's diet after the gall bladder has been removed. They continue to be emulsified by bile which flows from the liver directly into the digestive tract. The gall bladder does not manufacture bile—it merely stores
it.

Following the removal of a gall bladder how soon can one resume normal activities?
This depends on the activities. Light housework can be undertaken in about three weeks, swimming after about six weeks, if the wound is healed, and strenuous work in about 12 weeks.

Q—Would taking liquids with one's meals affect the severity of jaundice?
A—Only if the amount of liquid was excessive—say 24 ounces at a sitting.

Q—How effective is the new operation for glaucoma?
A—Surgical destruction of the ciliary body to prevent increasing pressure within the eye is very effective but is reserved for those who fail to respond to medical treatment.

Q—I have hay fever and have been taking immunizing injections every week. My doctor also gives me pyrilamine. Does it cause any bad side effects?
A—This antihistamine is widely used to treat allergic diseases. The chief side effect is drowsiness. An overdose may also cause dizziness, blurred vision, nausea and dryness of the mouth.

Mary Jane Farrell of Los Angeles "has more Master points than any other woman."
She also has more than any except two men.

You don't accumulate all those Master points without being a mighty good bidder, dummy player, defender and partner . . . and Mary Jane is all of those things.

North and South were playing five-card major suit openings. So Mary Jane, sitting West, knew that South had five spades, no hearts and four cards in each minor suit.
She also was sure that the right defense would start with a trump lead and led her singleton trump.

South went right up with dummy's king and led the diamond. East rose with the ace and played a second trump.

At this point in the play
South could have made 10 tricks by winning in his hand, cashing his high spades and diamonds and ruffing a diamond with dummy's low trump and a spade with dummy's high trump; or South could have made nine tricks by ruffing high the first time and ensuring his contract, but South tried an inferior line of play.

He won in his hand and led a low spade to dummy's jack.
East won with the queen and led a third trump. South was back in his hand and drew the last trump.

Mary Jane had no problem with her first two discards on trumps. She could spare two hearts comfortably. The last trump lead was a different proposition. She had to jettison her ace of hearts in order to avoid being end-played, but Mary Jane did just that.

This high card discard sealed South's doom. He cashed his two high spades but the suit did not break.

Two Tied for First at Fort Smith

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Miss Lea Larson of Rohwer and Martha Jeff of Little Rock tied for 77s Tuesday to tie for medalist honors as the 45th annual Arkansas Women's State golf tournament got under way.

None of the 16 golfers matched in the championship flight was able to conquer Hard-scrabble Country Club's par 70 layout.

The top flight, however, does offer some unusual points as it includes a mother and daughter entry and four former state champions.

Miss Larson won the tournament in 1962.

The other former champs are Mrs. Jim Wells of Little Rock, who qualified with an 80; Mrs. Jim Miller of Hot Springs who had an 82; and Mrs. Carle Robbins of Fort Smith, who had an 84.

The defending champion, Dot Germain, did not enter because of a previous engagement.

The mother and daughter who qualified are Mrs. Hugh Huppert, who had an 84, and Mimi Huppert, who had a 78. The two played each other in a recent tournament at Fayetteville and Mimi defeated her mother by five strokes.

The championship flight pairings for first-round action beginning today, and qualifying scores are:

Lea Larson, Rohwer (77) vs. Mrs. Dale Dunlap, Blytheville (84).

Miss Sharon Flippin, Fort Smith (80) vs. Mrs. Okla Smith, Fort Smith (84).

Mimi Huppert, Fayetteville (78) vs. Mrs. Charles Conway, Fort Smith (83).

Julie Yanlis, Fort Smith (82) vs. Margery Hale, Burdett (85).

Martha Jeff, Little Rock (77) vs. Mrs. John Mott, Fort Smith (83).

Robin Watson, Crawfordville (81) vs. Mrs. Carle Robbins, Fort Smith (84).

Mrs. Jim Wellons, Little Rock (80) vs. Mrs. McLoud Sicaud, Fort Smith (85).

Knuckles Is Big Gun in Traveler Win

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Phil Knuckles twirled a five-hitter and drove in three runs to lead the Arkansas Travelers to a 7-1 Texas League victory over the Amarillo Giants Tuesday night.

Knuckles, in fashioning his second straight complete game, evened his season record at 2-2. He struck out seven. Knuckles missed the first six weeks of the season with a spike wound in the right heel.

With the Travelers leading 2-1, Knuckles drove in a run in the fifth with a single and then singled across two more in the sixth.

Bob Taylor whacked a home run in the fourth inning for Amarillo's only score.

At Memphis, the Blues tagged Archie Reynolds of San Antonio for four hits and four runs in the second inning Tuesday night to beat the Missions 6-1.

It was only the second loss of the season for Reynolds, who has won eight.

Steve Renko, now 5-5, was the winner for Memphis.

In other Texas League games Tuesday night El Paso dropped Shreveport 10-6 and Albuquerque edged Dallas-Fort Worth 8-7.

State Tennis Tournament to Open

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas state tennis tournament opens at Walker Tennis Center here today with Arkansas tennis coach David Kossov going into the tourney top-seeded.

Kossov held the state title for two years and was runner-up for three straight years. He was seeded No. 1 when defending champion Jim Saucedo was ruled ineligible to play.

Tournament officials ruled that Saucedo is not a bonafide resident of Arkansas, although he said he still considers Pine Bluff his home. He has been attending school in Memphis for the past year.

Don Seiffert of Little Rock is seeded No. 2, Joe Adams of England is seeded third and Jay Freeman of Little Rock is fourth. Mike Mahaffy of Little Rock fifth, Dick Newberg of Little Rock sixth.

WOODCHUCK HUNTING—An increasingly popular sport.

Hasn't Had to Hand Out Many Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddy Stanky, major league manager, has a new program by which a player is rewarded for an outstanding pitching or hitting job. He has not had to hand out many so far this season.

"Tommy John got a new suit of clothes when he broke our losing streak," said Stanky, whose club rose from last to eighth place with a 9-5 win Tuesday night over New York.

"We also have assessments," he said, "We've always had them on my clubs. At the end of the year when I was in St. Louis we'd have a big party from that fund. It used to cost me $400 out of my own pocket. I make it a point to give it all back to the players in some form."

Most managers call assessments by another name—fines.

Helps Poor to Help Themselves

By LEE LINDER

Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Leon Howard Sullivan is a Negro man who also had a dream. And slowly — "oh, too slowly" — it is coming true.

Sullivan, a Baptist minister, went into the teeming squalid areas of Philadelphia, where thousands of his people live in rotting houses without much hope for a brighter future, and launched a job training and opportunities program "to help the poor people help themselves. And you can be sure of this, that we shall succeed," he says "and we shall change the cries in our streets from 'burn, baby, burn, to 'build, brother, build.'"

There are some Negroes who criticize Sullivan and label him an "Uncle Tom" for his close cooperation with white officials in government and business.

He scoffs at these charges, believes riots will diminish as the black and white cultures "merge more and more to become a single America."

"I learned to stand up on my own feet, and I want to prove to other people that they can do it," said the 45-year-old minister.

"A man, black or white, will never be free until he stops begging."

Sullivan's dream was rooted on a hot summer day in Charleston, W. Va., 32 years ago after he walked into a small country store, wiped the dust from the dry road on his shirt, sat down at the counter and asked for a soda.

The proprietor said it firmly, "You better stand up, black boy. You can't sit there."

"Right there," Sullivan said, "I made up my mind to stand up on my own feet the rest of my life — and try to help my people do the same."

His idea is that money talks — and talks big.

First, in 1957, banding together 400 Negro ministers, he organized an economic boycott — solely through Sunday pulpits — of 29 major Philadelphia firms.

His weapon was "don't buy where you can't work." And in this selective patronage campaign thousands of Negro men got jobs where Negro men never worked before.

Other groups across the nation have picked up the idea, some calling it "Operation Breadbasket." It's still being used.

"They (businessmen) hated weeks to sometimes a year.

Since the start, the government has provided $16 million of the total OIC financing, private sources another $4 million.

Industry, once cold and suspicious, now is quite chummy. Sullivan is on first-name relationship with the nation's top industrialists and financiers.

"These men give me supportive assistance," said Sullivan, noting their membership on an advisory committee. "OIC needs jobs to succeed and they open the doors of industry."

OIC now has spread to 75 cities, and more centers soon will open. They're in places like Little Rock, Ark.; Roanoke, Va.; Seattle, Wash.; New Haven, Conn.; Los Angeles, Charlotte, N.C.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Cleveland, Ohio; Denver, Colo.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Omaha, Neb.; Louisville, Ky.; Birmingham, Ala.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Wichita, Kan.

"There are 20,000 students in classes now across the country," said Sullivan. "By the end of this year there will be 50,000 and by January, 1970, there will be 250,000."

Sullivan, a big man at 6 foot 5 and 235 pounds, is successful pastor of the 5,000-member Zion Baptist church, largest in the Philadelphia Negro community, and with "the feeling that my direction is the right way."

"There are several roads to civil rights and freedom, and I'm following my road," he said. "I see it as racial economic emancipation."

Sullivan has risen far from the shack in the dirt-filled Charleston alley where he was born. His mother was a $13-a-week elevator operator, his father a janitor.

"I didn't have much purpose until that drugstore man shook me awake," he said. "I owe that man something."

WHAT'S IN A NAME? LOUISVILLE (AP) — Norman Kiang hopes his name isn't suggestive of sounds associated with his work. He sells auto insurance.

'Outrage' Will Stop Violence

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — America's political violence likely will stop only when the political slaying of an "unknown Negro or freedom fighter" stirs as much outrage as the killing of a national figure, a West German commentator says.

The United States need "a purging of moral conscience," declared Friedrich Langhelm of the Rheinische Post of Düsseldorf.

Langhelm was one of a host of foreign analysts trying to explain why Robert F. Kennedy was slain, and pondering where America is headed.

The Sunday Times of London said: "The Vietnam war and the crisis of the urban Negro are the two burning issues, and they have defeated solution by conventional politics. Together they have produced an almost intolerable tension in American life, and the climate, if not the specific cause for assassination."

"This may seem like a heartless way of saying it," said the newspaper Asahi of Tokyo, "but the United States is feeling the 'reprisal from the war' in Vietnam."

Asahi said the war "cannot help but create an atmosphere in the country conducive to the ready use of violence."

Viktor Meier, Washington correspondent of the Frankfurter Neue Presse in West Germany, also cited racial tensions, and said reason enough for a searching of conscience is that "the revolver-wielding here is glorified by movies, television, magazines, comic strips and children's toys."

Some commentators mentioned the theory that violence is inherited from America's hard pioneer times. But the British weekly New Statesman dismissed the importance of frontier sharpshooters as "a Hollywood cliché which abuses the historical facts."

"America," it said, "was a product of an overwhelming devotion to constitutional law; violence, though common, was essentially an aberration."

Cartoons in the Brazilian press showed a youthful sniper, with monster-like features, lining up the crosshairs of his rifle sight on the Statue of Liberty's heart; an American flag with 50 bullets instead of stars, and Uncle Sam, with dollars sticking from his coat pocket, blowing the smoke from a revolver barrel.

Will of the Cude Family Contested

MENA, Ark. (AP) — A hearing on a will, whose beneficiaries include three members of the Archie Cude family, was to open in Probate Court here today.

Cude, who was named executor of the will of Mrs. Rose N. Gordon who died in April, is the Polk County farmer who was involved in a court battle over his refusal on religious grounds to permit his children to be vaccinated so they could attend school.

Contesting the will are Mrs. Ida Hiler of Amelia, Ohio, Mrs. Gordon's sister, and Paul E. Sarver and his wife Barbara. Sarver says he is a foster son of Mrs. Gordon.

Clark Cude, 19, and Wayne Cude, 17, were named beneficiaries of Mrs. Gordon's 80-acre farm, farmer machinery and equipment, household furnishings and two motor vehicles. Their father was given a car.

Mrs. Hiler and the Sarvers allege that Cude exercised undue influence over Mrs. Gordon. Her will is dated Jan. 7. Sarver is barred in the will.

Joe Hardegree of Mena, 9th District prosecutor who is representing the Cudes, said about 40 witnesses had been subpoenaed.

Thieu Gains More Power in Vietnam

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky quit today as head of South Vietnam's People's Self Defense Committee, giving further evidence of President Nguyen Van Thieu's gains in the long power struggle between the two men.

Ky's letter of resignation to Thieu came after a week in which Ky has not participated in any government activities and has remained almost entirely in seclusion at the seaside town of Nha Trang.

The committee is an attempt by the government to arm and give rudimentary training to neighborhood and village groups for self defense against the Viet Cong. Ky was appointed to head it on May 3.

In the past week, Thieu has steadily increased his own control of the government at the expense of Ky. One after another, Thieu has replaced high officials loyal to Ky with men loyal to himself.

Among the Ky men replaced or about to be replaced are Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngo Loan, director of the national police; Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of the 3rd Military Corps Area; and Van Van Cua, the mayor of Saigon.

Several other high-ranking Ky supporters were killed last week by a rocket from a U.S. helicopter which the U.S. mission said misfired.

Ky has only those duties assigned to the vice president by the constitution. They are largely ceremonial.

Ky in his letter of resignation said: "In consideration of the fact that we have a new government which is capable of commanding a people's self-defense committee more reasonably, I have found it necessary for me to hand over the power to command the committee to the government from today on."

Paving Sample; Vehicle Tax Might Finish the Job

A welcome improvement is the resurfacing of Hope's business district streets — a sample of what might be accomplished city-wide if citizens would agree to provide city hall with the funds.

Arkansas city governments are chronically short of money for street improvement. The municipal electric plant towns, of which Hope is one, have more total revenue than most, but cities are sharply limited in attempting to apply electric revenues to street paving. Such electric funds as are diverted to the streets must be matched by local taxes from other sources. Otherwise the entire cost of street work would be dumped unfairly into the laps of electric consumers. It would be just as unfair as trying to make property owners pay all street costs.

The obvious solution is a compromise paving program supported by taxes from several sources, with matching funds from the electric plant. But the first attempt in this direction was shouted down at a city hall public meeting. That proposal contained an allocation of federal aid, to which we objected. The city reworked the plan, struck out federal aid, increased the amount the electric plant would contribute, and added a vehicle license tax. This went to the polls and was defeated.

I will always suspect that a material factor in its defeat was the city license tax on vehicles — something the automobile owners are going to have to reconsider if they ever expect to get good streets for Hope.

An automobile represents a large investment, and it makes sense to donate a few dollars a year to protect it with good streets. But this is something car owners will have to resolve in their own minds. Certainly the payers of income tax won't resolve it for them by permitting federal grants; nor will electric consumers be saddled with the entire cost when all they have to do to stop it is to file an injunction; and property owners very definitely won't pick up the whole bill.

Maybe when the car owner finally realizes what a lone hand he is trying to play he'll throw in with his fellow citizens and agree to a vehicle license tax — and we'll be able to rebuild Hope's rough and unsightly streets.

Board Votes to Pave More City Streets

The Board of Directors at their regular meeting last night voted to extend the contract with Beam Brothers, who have been resurfacing the downtown area, to include a number of other streets that are in suitable condition for this type of surfacing.

The additional streets will include several blocks of curbed streets that are in condition to support a surface of this kind. This type of surface is too expensive to use on streets where the base is not in good condition. This program will cover most of the streets that can be resurfaced without rebuilding and re-setting the base.

It is estimated there are 15 additional blocks where it will be feasible to use this type of surfacing and the estimated cost will be $7,000 to $8,000. A good many of the badly deteriorated blacktopped streets are scheduled to be rebuilt by the City Street Department during the summer.

The Board voted to buy a late model caterpillar motor grader from Beam Brothers at a price of $16,000. The street department has been using the machine for the past 10 days and finds that it is in excellent condition. A new machine of this type would cost about $28,000. This will give the city two heavy maintainers and the additional one is badly needed.

An Ordinance was passed abandoning an easement for a road that formerly went through the area which is now Green Acres subdivision.

On the agenda for the meeting was a meeting with the Negro

Convicts Hold 22 Hostages

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Four armed inmates released 22 hostages at the U.S. Penitentiary today after an agreement by prison officials to meet certain demands.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Four armed inmates of the U.S. Penitentiary held 22 persons hostage today when prison officials considered a list of the inmates' grievances.

The hostages—17 male and five female prison employees—were reported to be unharmed, and officials inside the massive, maximum security institution maintained communications with them and the inmates.

A break in the stalemate came shortly before midnight. One hostage, B. V. Wolde, was released to present Warden Olin G. Blackwell a list of grievances drawn up by the inmates.

Thinks Fat Folks More Likely to Be Honest Than the Skinny Ones

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

If you have to trust someone, you'll generally do better by putting your faith in a fat man. Fat people are more likely to be honest than skinny people simply because it usually takes too much energy to be crooked.

The more sophisticated conversation at a Manhattan cocktail party, the less likely it is that half the guests present can give the right answer to a practical question, such as, "How many faucets are there on a milk cow?"

A fellow wouldn't mind the high cost of sending a son through college if it would just send him back home a good quarterback.

A man is still boss in the family if, when they go shopping together in the supermarket, he walks in front of the shopping cart and she pushes it.

The trouble with many rebellions today is that they seem designed to stir echoes rather than achieve goals. Even those who join in them often can't explain clearly what they are for.

Wage Law for Public Institutions to Cost Taxpayers Millions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

State officials say a Supreme Court decision on the minimum wage law applying to various employees of public institutions would cost the taxpayers millions of dollars a year.

The court ruling affects nearly two million workers in state schools, hospitals and other institutions, holding that they are covered by minimum wage and overtime standards set by federal law.

In most states the minimum wage standard, currently $1.15 an hour but rising to $1.60 in 1971, was already being met, but most states were paying overtime work with equal time off, or at the standard per-hour rate. Under the federal wage law, overtime work must be paid at the rate of time and a half.

The additional salary outlay in Texas had been estimated by Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, in advance of Monday's high court ruling, at $14 million over a four-year period.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Brian Upp of

Oklahoma assessed the cost to his state at $66 million over a four-year period.

Maryland reckoned its state payroll hike at $6 million a year. Other official estimates included Michigan, $300,000; California, $300,000; Kansas, $500,000; Colorado, $1 million to $1.5 million.

School teachers are not affected by the ruling, which applies only to nonadministrative and nonprofessional employees.

"Our principal concern is not in the area of the minimum wage," said Jay McGinn, Florida state personnel director. "But we are concerned about time and a half overtime. How much money this will amount to is anybody's guess."

Mrs. Miriam Ringo, director of the Illinois Department of Personnel, said she did not yet know how many state workers would have additional money coming but "I regard this as an unfortunate decision."

British Seek to Clear Ray Case Mystery

By COLIN FROST

Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard delved today into the mysteries of James Earl Ray's stay in Britain as U.S. officials worked on their case for the extradition of the man accused of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray has been traced to two London hotels between May 28 and his arrest Saturday, but there is an unexplained gap of about 10 days, starting May 17 when he left Lisbon.

FBI agents were understood to be working with Scotland Yard detectives, but British police are doing the spadework since the FBI has no legal authority in foreign countries. Police on both sides of the Atlantic are trying to untangle Ray's travels, which took him to Canada, Britain and Portugal after King was shot April 4.

Ray was transferred Tuesday to a maximum security cell in Wandsworth Prison because Brixton Jail on London's South Side, was not considered secure enough.

Extradition proceedings could last two months if the 40-year-old escaped convict fights all the way through the British courts.

As a first step, American authorities have obtained a provisional British warrant charging Ray with the murder of King in Memphis, Tenn. A State Department spokesman in Washington said documents to support the extradition request "will be transmitted to London shortly."

The British police are holding Ray on charges of using a forged passport and carrying a loaded gun. On Scotland Yard's records he is officially listed as Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport.

U.S. officials have not tried to question Ray to avoid legal complications resulting from Supreme Court decisions in re-

Rockets Hit Base, Kill Civilians

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base was the target for the daily Viet Cong rocket attack on South Vietnam's capital today, and the 30 casualties—all civilians—included four Vietnamese children killed and two Americans wounded.

While civilians throughout Saigon filled sandbags to build home shelters, new fighting flared at opposite ends of the demilitarized zone. Allied troops reported killing 121 North Vietnamese in two battles.

The 10 rockets that hit Tan Son Nhut before dawn also wounded 24 Vietnamese and destroyed three houses, one helicopter and a small observation plane.

Several other planes, including a large military transport, were damaged at the sprawling base, a favorite target for enemy gunners even before the current wave of shelling.

The base contains Saigon's commercial airport, government and American air units, headquarters of the U.S. Military Command in Vietnam and the homes of a number of Vietnamese officials, including Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

At least 130 civilians have launched their "peace talks" offensive May 5, the eve of the start of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks in Paris.

Although the official military view is that the shelling has little military significance, concern is mounting about the psychological effect on Saigon's 3 million people. Additional government troops have been assigned to sweep the "rocket belt" around the capital.

Cracks Appear in Wall of Opposition to a Tough Gun Control Law

By JOHN BECKLER

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Cracks are appearing in the solid wall of resistance Congress has thrown up against efforts to write a tougher gun-control law.

In the House, Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee predicts the committee will approve a gun bill at its next meeting June 20. The panel rejected such a bill by a tie vote Tuesday.

However, that 16 to 16 vote was the closest this stringent a gun-control bill has come to winning the committee's approval.

And the Senate, an indication of the mounting pressure for stiffer controls over gun purchases was reflected in the plea of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., for the people of his state to review this long-held position against such legislation—which McGovern also has opposed.

He said South Dakota sportsmen should consider whether they would be willing to undergo "a certain amount of inconvenience" in order to help slow the use of guns in violent crime.

President Johnson, who has repeatedly urged Congress to pass a law restricting sales of all firearms, called Tuesday's tie vote in the House Judiciary Committee "a shocking blow at the safety of every citizen in the country."

Celler expressed confidence he can pick up at least one more vote to break the tie when the committee reconsiders its action June 20.

As the committee considered the issue, several hundred pickets circled the downtown offices of the National Rifle Association, bearing placards demanding strong gun controls. The NRA has opposed the tougher bill, contending Americans have the constitutional right to bear arms.

With a heavy load of mail urging a stiffer law now reaching Congress in the aftermath of the shooting death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the pressure will be on committee Republicans, who voted almost solidly against the bill.

The tie vote came on a bill sent to Congress Monday by Johnson. It would prohibit mail-order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition, and also over-the-counter sales to residents of another state.

Johnson has on his desk a bill that would place similar restrictions on pistols. It is part of an omnibus crime-control bill that Johnson has not yet signed into law.

Congress did not provide restrictions against the sale of rifles and shotguns, a decision which led to the new administration proposal.

U.S. Issues Protest to Rocket Raids

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent
PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam met again today, and U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman prepared a strong protest against Viet Cong rocket attacks on Saigon.

"The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are engaged in terrorist actions against the civilian population," Harriman told newsmen as he went into the meeting. "There is no military excuse for this whatever . . . There is no justification for these terrorist activities."

Harriman said he would protest to North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy. Asked whether he intended to bring up the possibility of U.S. retaliation, Harriman said, "No, that's not the purpose of these talks."

Neither Harriman nor Thuy gave any indication of movement toward breaking their deadlock over how to scale down the Vietnam war.

Attending the talks with Thuy today was Le Duc Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese Communist party's nine-man politburo who arrived in Paris last week.

Hanoi Radio reported today that he had told CBS correspondent Charles Collingwood in an interview the talks can progress only after the United States drops its demand for reciprocal de-escalation and stops all war actions against North Vietnam.

The first session of the talks May 13 brought a demand from Thuy for the United States to halt the rest of the bombing of North Vietnam and a counter demand from Harriman for North Vietnam to reciprocate to the "limited bombing" halt imposed by President Johnson on March 31. That is still the central unresolved issue.

The only basis for encouragement which Harriman and his aides have found is that Thuy, having moved his delegation into a suburban villa, appears prepared to carry on the discussions indefinitely. Neither side has made any move to break off the talks, though both have spoken of the possibility that the talks may fail.

Along with the daily bombardment of Saigon came an "official statement" from the Viet Cong, broadcast by Hanoi Radio Tuesday, predicting a general offensive.

The statement said Viet Cong offensive operations of the last four months—beginning with the Tet assault on South Vietnamese cities in February—and "the general offensive that is coming" are like the battle of Dien Bien Phu which defeated the French in 1954.

U.S. officials took this as support for their theory that North Vietnamese strategy is dominated by a "Dien Bien Phu psychology," that Hanoi's leaders are bent on a decisive victory over U.S. and South Vietnamese forces which would compel the United States to make peace on Communist terms.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Board of Engineers Tuesday approved a $1.5 million flood-control plan for the Poston Bayou in Arkansas.

The project would involve construction of a new outlet to the Red River, consisting of a 2.5-mile diversion channel, a gated control structure with levees and other drainage works.

The federal share of the project would be $1.3 million with local interests providing land, easements, rights of way and relocations at an estimated cost of $120,000, plus a cash contribution of about $81,000.

The engineer report said that although existing levees protect the area against direct river flooding, severe damage is caused periodically by headwater overflow due to the limitations of the bayou channel.

The report must now go to other officials and agencies before going to Congress for possible authorization.

State Weapons Law Expected In Two Months

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' first meaningful weapons law is in its final stage of preparation and is expected to be ready within two months for presentation to the 1969 General Assembly.

The proposed bill is now in the attorney general's office for a check on legal points and loopholes.

The next move, said Blytheville Police Chief George Ford, who set out several months ago to produce a gun control law for Arkansas, is to review it after it is returned from the attorney general.

Ford was asked by the Arkansas Association of Police Chiefs to work up the bill, and the association appointed a two-man committee composed of Chief R. E. Brians of Little Rock and Chief Bill Howard of Pine Bluff to work with Ford.

Ford said the committee will meet again after the proposal is returned, and he said he expects it to be brought before the association sometime next month.

"At that time, if it meets with the approval of the association, we will mimeograph and distribute copies to the governor, senators, representatives, mayors and anyone else who asks for it," Ford said.

"In my opinion, the weapon control law in Arkansas is completely inadequate," Ford said. "The only restriction on the sale of guns in Arkansas now is money."

He said the proposed act would restrict the possession of firearms by such persons as mental incompetents, minors, aliens, drug addicts and felons. The proposal deals with a new weapon under 18 inches in length and includes blackjacks and knives.

The proposal also would make it more costly for, as an example, a burglar to carry a gun. Ford said that if a burglar were armed during commission of the burglary, he also could be punished for carrying a firearm in addition to the burglary charge.

"This will make a man have second thoughts," Ford said. "If he's going to commit a crime, he may do it unarmed."

Persons buying handguns in retail stores would be required to assist in filling out a four-copy questionnaire, which would include the buyer's name and address and a full description of the weapon. It would be unlawful to tamper with the weapon's serial number and to make false statements regarding the questionnaire. A person also would have to sign an affidavit that he meets the qualifications.

The proposal also would require a person moving into the state to fill out a form on every weapon he possesses, and each time a weapon changes hands, even in case of a wife buying her husband a present, applications have to be filled out.

"There is no provision whereby a person can legally carry a weapon in Arkansas under the present law," Ford said, but this would be changed with the new law. He said the only way a person can carry a weapon in Arkansas is in a vehicle when he is going on a journey.

A bank guard or night watchman cannot legally carry a pistol unless he is a police officer. Some get around this part of the law by getting themselves appointed deputy sheriffs or special officers of the local police agency, but some question already has been raised about its legality.

The proposed act has a provision whereby people can be granted a permit to carry a weapon for a specific reason. Ford said this means that a bank guard could carry a weapon from home to work, while he is at work and from work to home and no other time.

In compiling information to go into the proposal, Ford said he wrote all other states. Forty-six responded and 38 have some form of weapons control.

"The law-abiding citizen has no problem with this," Ford said. "This law will help them. The criminal element? Yes, they will have a problem, and we intend for them to have a problem."

"This is not foolproof, we know that," Ford said, "but I think 99.9 per cent of the people will willingly abide by the law."

Vietnamese Have to Have Several Jobs

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Unless he is wealthy, a Vietnamese must have two or three jobs to support his family. In many families, wives and children must work to keep up with South Vietnam's wartime inflation. Since the Tet offensive, many have lost their second and third jobs, making the squeeze even tougher.

Prices took off like a balloon in early 1965 and have continued to rise as the number of U.S. troops has risen. In that period, as the number of American troops rose from 20,000 to 500,000, the cost of food has quadrupled and over-all prices—including food, transportation, haircuts, aspirin, charcoal, electricity—have increased threefold.

This means Vietnamese must find ways to pay 60 cents for a loaf of bread that used to cost 10 cents, or a kilogram, 2.2 pounds, of rice for 280 piasters that once sold for 82.

Nguyen Van Tinh—the name is fictitious but the situation is real—is a middle level official in the Ministry of Agriculture. He has a degree from a university in the Philippines and a master's degree from American University in Washington, D.C.

He is paid 14,000 piasters—$119—a month and gets a rice allowance that brings his monthly salary to almost 16,000 piasters. He also is allowed the personal use of a ministry jeep. The pay figures mean he has to spend half a day's pay for a kilo of rice or four loaves of bread.

Here are some further swelling price comparisons, with the figure for January 1965 followed by that for May 1968, and with the plaster worth .0085 cents; (price per kilo, unless otherwise indicated).

Lean pork 85 and 350; beef steak 80 and 300; one live chicken 85 and 270; shrimp 34 and 150; one bottle local beer 8.5 and 25; cabbage 11 and 45; cucumbers 6 and 35; pack of locally produced cigarettes 8 and 20; haircut 15 and 70.

The index of prices, set at 100 on Jan. 1, 1965, is now: food 443; nonfood 280; all items 393.

In the United States, where the index of 100 is based on the 1957-59 period, the April 1968 home food price figure was 115.1, against 105.05 for April 1965. Labor Department statistics give these comparative prices for March 1965 and March 1968, steak $1.07 and $1.17 a pound; butter 74.9 and 83.4 cents a pound; potatoes 99.4 and 67.9 cents per 10 pounds.

These statistics show April gross earnings for about 45 million nonsupervisory workers in fields ranging from manufacturing and mining to insurance and real estate at $104.83 weekly in 1968.

In connection with the Vietnam war.

Worley, who had been listed as missing, was stationed at a base in Thailand.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll G. Worley of Bald Knob. Other survivors include a widow, two sons and a daughter.

THE BATTLE RAGES

Dear Helen: After reading the letter from "Tired Mom" who thought the "dishes and garbage in kids' beds" routine was just fine to combat their sloppiness, I sat there stunned!

Why didn't she teach them respect for their parents and pride in themselves in the early, formative years? Why didn't she consider the work involved before she produced eight kids? What kind of example does she set for them. "Childish get-even schemes" is right, Helen. You should have said ten times more. — ASTONISHED

Dear Astonished: I didn't have to — I knew my correspondents would do it for me. Keep reading. — H

Dear Helen: Though I don't know "Tired Mom" or her children, I know something is terribly wrong in that family, and it isn't all the kids' fault.

I'm a 15-year-old girl who has been brought up to respect myself and others. Our family knows that everyone works for the common good. If we do our jobs well, we all have more time to enjoy life and each other — and we all take pride in the way our house and yard look. We've been brought up with discipline and love and I'm grateful my folks aren't like "Tired Mom." Kids are never hopeless, unless parents have lost hope. — L.M.B.T.

P.S. Of course we have our differences, but we iron them out, instead of hitting each other over the head with them.

Dear Helen: Putting dirty dishes and garbage in a daughter's bed wouldn't teach a girl to do dishes — it would teach her to hate her mother. — T.G.A.

Dear Helen: We had a big discussion at the office over your "Tired Mom" letter. Most of the young girls were against this mother, but I say they must be spoiled. If a teen-ager is so lazy he or she won't lift his hand to help, he deserves garbage in bed. I'm sure Dr. Spock would gasp at my theory, but even his own mother disagrees with his methods. These lazy, good-for-nothing kids nowadays need shaking up.

I well remember the family discussions my parents had with us four children around the kitchen table, and the good it did. By the time my folks got done talking we felt so ashamed of ourselves a spanking wasn't necessary. We were taught to work! "Tired Mom" should teach her kids likewise, with any method that does the trick for her. — P.P.

Dear P.: You uphold "Tired Mom's" get-even method while recalling your own parents' wise discussions. Which kind of parent YOU'LL be depends on how soon you start which kind of discipline! — H

Dear Helen: Throw dishes, give encouragement, I wouldn't want to be involved in that," Spock said.

human beings. And they respect us enough to take responsibility. Of course we know that just as nobody ever learned the multiplication tables at one session, so too do children need constant reminders about chores. We don't expect perfection. Sometimes I yell at them, often they complain, yet when something important comes up — for them or for us parents — the family rallies around to help each other make the deadline. We take over each other's jobs because we share love and respect. — MOTHER OF FOUR FINE ONES

Testimony Ends in the Spock Case

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Testimony has ended in the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

The pediatrician ended his second day on the witness stand Tuesday with a denial that he ever attempted to persuade young men to resist the draft, but said he was "glad and delighted" when they did.

Closing arguments by defense and prosecution begin today. A final charge by U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford remains before the all-male jury receives the case.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock is Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They face maximum sentences of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines if convicted of the conspiracy charges.

The defense rested when Spock left the witness stand after 18 days of testimony by both sides. The defendants were indicted Jan. 8 and trial began May 20.

Prosecution and defense lawyers said they hoped the jury could receive the case before the weekend.

During a cross-examination, Asst. U.S. Atty. John Wall asked Spock if the "ultimate effect" of the pediatrician's antidraft activities might result in widespread refusal by young men to serve in the armed forces and fight in Vietnam.

"I would be glad if 500,000 men in the Army and Navy refused to serve," Spock replied, "They would be doing right by their country."

"But you would not personally encourage them?" he was asked.

"But I wouldn't personally give encouragement, I wouldn't want to be involved in that," Spock said.

Colombian Head Offers Program

By DANIEL HARKER
Associated Press Writer

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Carlos Lleras Restrepo told the Colombian Senate Tuesday night to accept his resignation or his resignation, plunging the South American nation into its deepest governmental crisis in recent years.

If Congress refuses to accept the resignation, Lleras said in a broadcast to the nation, it will mean it is ready to approve his program, which the Senate rejected last week.

An earlier announcement that Lleras would resign set off anti-government riots at the University of Bogota Tuesday night and clashes in the city between supporters of Lleras and of ex-dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla.

Army units with tanks occupied the university campus. Authorities said 20 policemen and three civilians had been injured, including one student in serious condition. The government charged that the rioting students were disciples of Mao Tse-tung and Fidel Castro.

The Senate on Friday rejected constitutional amendments submitted by Lleras to curtail congressional power over economic matters and to allow, for the first time in 10 years, political parties other than the ruling Conservatives and Liberals to run candidates in future elections.

Under the constitution, the presidency alternates between a Liberal and a Conservative every four years, the result of a 1957 agreement which ended a decade of civil war. Lleras is a Liberal.

In recent years both major parties have been split by factionalism, making it difficult for the government to put together a congressional majority to approve legislation.

Lleras became president of this nation of 19-million people two years ago after winning 75 per cent of the votes. He promised to accomplish an ambitious program of social and economic reforms to achieve what he called "a more equal society," narrowing the gap between the affluent and the poor.

He has already accomplished extensive agrarian reforms to benefit 500,000 landless Colombians as well as a no-compromise tax reform which has hurt more wealthy Colombians accustomed in the past to paying minimum taxes. But other key programs have been blocked in Congress, frequently by rebels of his own party.

Rockefeller in Appeal to Voters

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller directed an all-out appeal to American voters today in the hope of creating enough popular pressure to overcome the delegate advantage of Richard M. Nixon at the Republican nominating convention.

The governor also hoped, aides said, to show the men with votes at the convention that he can pick up support from followers of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and thus lead the GOP to victory in November.

His nationwide campaign is designed to prove he can provide the "new leadership" he says the country needs.

"America cries out for a leader," he said in full-page ads which appeared in newspapers from coast to coast and pledged to give, later today in Los Angeles, his answers to "a subject that has tormented us like none other in our recent history: Riot."

Foreshadowing his formal position, Rockefeller said in a CBS telecast Tuesday night that, while it was vital to preserve public order, "We can no longer tolerate injustice or bigotry. We must strike at their roots."

He urged viewers: "If we don't like the laws, let's change them."

And, he insisted, "Without progress and justice there can be no order."

The governor opened his telecast speech with a tribute to Kennedy who, he said, "died for his country. His death presents a new challenge to those of us who remain."

Rockefeller said, however, that the assassination would not stop him mingling with the voters during his campaign.

"I have faith in this country, I have faith in people, and consequently I have no fear," he declared.

President Johnson has provided Rockefeller and other major candidates with Secret Service protection and guards are expected to surround the New York governor when he makes a planned walking tour of Watts, the Los Angeles Negro district where rioting raged in 1966.

Agents guarded him during his telecast.

The governor's 10-minute speech was part of a prime-time half-hour paid for by the Rockefeller-for-President Committee which declined to say how much it cost. The committee also declined to discuss the cost of the newspaper ads.

He denounced men of what he called "the old politics" without mentioning them by name and claimed that "new leadership can recapture control of events. 'It is to offer this new leadership that I seek the presidency of the United States.'"

As part of the "new look" campaign, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, who has demonstrated strong support among young people and minority groups, set out for a Midwest tour to support Rockefeller.

After attending the U.S. Conference of Mayors in Chicago, Lindsay will give the keynote address at the North Dakota Republican State Convention in Fargo on Friday and that evening will speak at the Minnesota Republican State Convention in Duluth. On Saturday he will speak to the Genesee County Republican Finance Committee in Flint, Mich.

Perfectionist's delight

Perfection is an elusive goal, yet the makers of Lincoln Continental have pledged themselves to it year after year. And they come closer to realizing their goal than any other fine-car maker. But then, they have a slight edge on the field. Each year, Continental engineers and designers start with the finest car in America. They improve it. They refine it. They subject it to over 2000 manufacturing checks. Then test it again with a rigorous twelve-mile road test. In fact, they are as meticulous about testing each Continental as they are about building it. This meticulous attention to even the most minute detail has led the most discerning of fine-car connoisseurs to acclaim Continental as the definitive car in its field. Lincoln Continental for 1968 more than ever lives up to its reputation as the finest car made in America. Everywhere you look, from the gracefully classic Continental design to the luxurious beauty of the interiors, you detect the craftsman's hand.

Allow us to show you how nearly perfect a motorcar can be. Let us arrange a personal demonstration for you, during which you may become acquainted with the pleasure and prestige awaiting you in the 1968 Lincoln Continental.

Employment Division Has Job Openings

New and immediate employment opportunities in the Arkansas Employment Security Division were announced today by John M. Peterson, Administrator, for a new entry level for career positions.

This makes career opportunities available to persons who previously were unable to meet the academic and experience standards for agency professional classifications.

Peterson said that the agency was conducting emergency recruitment for five job classifications which are open now and in the immediate future. The classifications are — Counseling Series, Interviewer II, Employment Aide, Employment Agent and Coach.

Peterson said, "we are recruiting for three classifications of Counselor, Counselor Intern, Counselor, and Master Counselor. For minimum qualifications for the Counselor and Interviewer series, contact the nearest Employment Security Division office."

Peterson said that applications for the Counselor and Interviewer classifications must be filed with the Arkansas Merit System Council, no later than June 17, in order to participate in the next examination. Applications will be accepted thereafter on a continuing basis.

Data From Hempstead Farm Agent

FARM BUREAU

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau membership as of May 31, is 714 or 102.1 percent of the 1968 goal of 699. On this same date the State organization reported 54,353 farm families enrolled in Farm Bureau.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING OF CATTLE

On Thursday, June 13, we will hold a training session on Artificial Insemination of cattle. Dr. David Ibsen, Extension Veterinarian, and Dr. Lantis Ratcliff, Extension Dairyman, will lead the discussion. In the afternoon we will visit a farm nearby for more training on this subject.

LIVESTOCK PEST

Screwworm infestation is on the increase in Texas. Control measures have been effective and no confirmed cases of screwworms were reported in Texas between November and March but 203 cases were confirmed since March until May 29. Arkansas has not had a confirmed case of screwworms in the last four years, however, with the outbreak in Texas and with the movement of cattle, they could come into Arkansas anytime.

All livestock producers should be on the alert for this pest. Samples may be sent to Dr. Henry Martin, Arkansas National Stockyards, 5400 Murray Street, Little Rock, Arkansas 72206, for free identification.

LATE PLANTED SOYBEANS

Soybeans planted after June 15 can be considered as late beans, and maximum yields should not be expected. However, soybeans may produce profitable yields when planted after June 15 if there are adequate rains later in the season, moderate temperatures and a late frost. In general, Arkansas yield data have shown a decrease in soybean yields when planted in July.

Soybeans will not have time to make normal vegetative growth before flowering is induced because of reduced day lengths at this late date of planting.

The varieties to plant after June 15 should be the late mid-season maturing group which include Bragg, Jackson, Semmes and Bossler for southern Arkansas.

ing subcommittee and released in heavily censored form Tuesday.

The two divisions "show deficiencies in over-all operating strength, shortages of majors and captains, military occupation specialties and shortages of major items of equipment and repair parts," the report said.

In discussing the condition of the 7th Infantry Division, the subcommittee stated: "Shortages of major items of equipment and the lack of availability of repair parts to reduce the amount of equipment which is inoperable . . . are the principal reasons for the (deleted) condition of the division in logistics."

Group Reports Sirhan Seems Satisfied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, seems satisfied with his treatment in custody, says an American Civil Liberties Union attorney.

A.L. Wirin, counsel for the ACLU's Southern California chapter, commented on Sirhan's condition at a news conference Tuesday. Wirin has visited the Jordanian immigrant in his 12-by-12 foot jail cell several times since his arrest June 5.

Meanwhile, Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, who was criticized after he disclosed information about Sirhan's background, defended his actions as being in the public interest. He said he acted only to "get the facts to the public to prevent rumors and violence" such as that which occurred after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

Sirhan is denied radio and television and says he doesn't want to read newspapers, Wirin said. The attorney said the defendant is allowed a few minutes of exercise each day in the corridor outside his cell and spends his time reading books on occultism.

Despite Sirhan's asking Wirin three times to defend him, the attorney said he would not take the case. His role, Wirin said, was to safeguard Sirhan's rights and to help find a lawyer to represent him.

Wants Gambling for Students

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — The editor of the Nevada Boys State newspaper says 160 high school delegates studying government should be allowed to gamble in this state where gambling by adults is legal.

"Everyone is doing it anyway," said editor Dale Wilson of Reno. He said the boys are playing penny-ante poker, but counsels keep confiscating their pots.
